SPECIFIC KRIYA (YOGA SET)

WARM UPS

FROG POSE (26x)

Squat down on the toes, knees wide apart. Heels are touching, and raised up off the ground. Place the fingertips on the ground between the knees. The face is forward. Inhale as you raise the hips up, keeping the fingertips on the ground, heels up, knees locked. Exhale down, face forward, knees outside of arms. Frog Pose works on opening the flow of energy in the second chakra area of the body, the pelvis and sex organs. It builds your sexual potency and balances* the sexual energies. This energy is a very vital energy and again the kidneys play an important role in transforming this energy into Ojas, a vital life fluid that sustains our body. Doing Frog Pose can certainly help you to work with themes connected to the second chakra like your self-esteem, sexuality, creativity and fear. It's an exercise that can help you tap back into the flow of life.

EGO ERADICATOR

Raise the arms up to a 60 degree angle. Keep the elbows straight and the shoulders down. Apply Neck Lock. Curl the fingertips on to the pads of the palms at the base of the fingers. Thumbs are stretched back, pointing towards each other.

Ego Eradicator opens the lungs, consolidates the magnetic field, aura and brings the brain hemispheres to a state of alertness. In yogic theory, the thumbs represent the ego. By pointing them up to the heavens, we are making a statement that we are going to go beyond the thoughts of the ego and access our higher selves. I also like to think of the arm position as a way to become a funnel, a way to decide what to bring into my experience.*

KRIYA: LIONS PAWS

POSTURE: Sit in Easy Pose.

MUDRA: Fully extend the arms out to the sides with the fingers stretched back from the palm and tensed like claws. The entire hand should be rigid and taut, like a lion's paw.

MOVEMENT: Alternately cross your wrists over your head and return your arms out to your sides, parallel to the ground (1A). Keep the lion's paw tight. Move powerfully and rhythmically.

BREATH: Begin a breath of fire, coordinating one inhale-exhale with each movement.

TIME: Continue for 7-9 minutes and then without stopping, stick your tongue all the way out and continue for 15 seconds more.

END: Then inhale and hold the arms up at 60° for 15 seconds (1B). Exhale. Repeat. Inhale and hold again for 30 seconds. Exhale. Sit quietly breathing long and gently for a few minutes.

MEDITATION

MEDITATION FOR A CALM HEART

1. Sit in easy pose with a straight spine, close the eyes or look straight ahead and leave the eyes 1/10th open.
2. Place the left hand palm down on your heart center. Bend the right arm resting the elbow against the side of the body, and hold the right hand in gyan mudra (thumb and pointer finger meeting with the other fingers extended) at the level of the shoulder.
3. Inhale deeply and retain the breath as long as you comfortably can.
4. Then, exhale slowly and hold the breath out as long as you comfortably can.
5. Continue for 3-5 minutes.

Note: Do not hold the breath in or out so long that you're gasping or in distress. You may need to experiment a bit. In my experience, holding the breath out is more difficult than holding the breath in. It can be frightening because there is no breath, and some even start to feel panicked. This is an opportunity to confront and move beyond fears.

You who is my keeper and sustainer, Uplifting and elevating my situation.

When I surrender myself at your feet (lotus feet of the Guru,) everything begins to resolve and solve itself!

You have become merciful, kind, and compassionate; and I don't need to figure anything out with my limited mind.

Working through other beings, people in my life, you take us from misfortune - find a way to get me to the shore.

Godless, slanderous enemies—you finish them in timelessness. Listening to your guidance I am unaffected by any animosity or manipulation.
